Reexamination Litigation Policy

This notice is intended to set forth the PTO's current policy and guidelines relating to reexamination practice when the patent undergoing reexamination has been or concurrently is involved in litigation. This policy results from the decision of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit in Ethicon v. Quigg 849 F.2d 1142, 7 USPQ 2d 1152 (Fed. Cir. 1988). The Court's decision sets forth the principle that the "special dispatch" provision of the reexamination statute requires the PTO to continue its examination of claims in reexamination proceedings without stays even if there is court litigation involving allegations of invalidity of the patent under reexamination. More particularly, the Court held that the only circumstances under which the PTO may discontinue a reexamination are when a district court finds the claims under reexamination to be invalid and that decision is either upheld on appeal or not appealed, i.e., "final." Accordingly, the following policy and guidelines will be followed in order to implement the principles set forth in the Ethicon decision where reexamination and related litigation are present.

I. Stay of Reexamination

The Court held that the PTO's previous policy, set forth in 37 CFR §1.565(b) and MPEP 2286, of staying a reexamination proceeding when a trial on the merits starts in related litigation conflicts with the statutory requirement for "special dispatch." 35 U.S.C. §305. Accordingly, the previous policy of the Office of sua sponte staying a reexamination proceeding upon the start of the trial in related litigation has been rescinded. The reexamination will continue concurrently with the pending litigation notwithstanding the stage of the litigation.

II. Issuance of Court Decision During Reexamination

A non-final district court decision concerning a patent under reexamination shall have no binding effect on a reexamination proceeding.

The issuance of a final district court decision upholding validity during a reexamination also will have no binding effect on the examination of the reexamination. This is because the Court states in Ethicon that the PTO is not bound by a court's holding of patent validity and should continue the reexamination. The Court notes that district courts and the PTO use different standards of proof in determining invalidity and thus on the same evidence could quite correctly come to different conclusions. Specifically, invalidity in a district court must be shown by "clear and convincing" evidence, whereas in the PTO it is sufficient to show nonpatentability by a "preponderance" of evidence. Since the "clear and convincing" standard is harder to satisfy than the "preponderance standard," deference will ordinarily be accorded to the factual findings of the court where the evidence before the PTO and the court is the same. If sufficient reasons are present, claims held valid by the court may be rejected in reexamination.

On the other hand, the Court states that a final holding of invalidity is binding on the PTO and the reexamination may be discontinued. Upon the issuance of a holding of claim invalidity or unenforceability by a district court, reexamination of those claims will continue in the PTO until the court's decision becomes final. Upon the issuance of a final holding of invalidity or unenforceability, the claims held invalid or unenforceable will be withdrawn from consideration in the reexamination. The reexamination will continue as to any remaining claims. If all of the claims are finally held invalid or unenforceable, the reexamination will be vacated as no longer containing a substantial new question of patentability.

III. Initial Determination of a Substantial New Question of Patentability

When the initial question as to whether the prior art raises a substantial new question of patentability as to a patent claim is under consideration, the existence of a final court decision of claim validity in view of the same or different prior art does not necessarily mean that no new question is present, in view of the different standards of proof employed by the district courts and the PTO. Thus, while the PTO may accord deference to factual findings made by the court, the determination of whether a substantial new question of patentability exists will be made independently of the court's decision on validity as it is not controlling on the PTO. A non-final holding of claim invalidity or unenforceability will not be controlling on the question of whether a substantial new question of patentability is present. A final holding of claim invalidity or unenforceability, however, is controlling on the PTO. In such cases a substantial new question of patentability would not be present as to the claims held invalid or unenforceable.

Identification of Current Stays

The PTO is currently attempting to identify all reexamination proceedings which are currently stayed pursuant to concurrent litigation in order to lift the stays. To assist the PTO, the patent owner in any such stayed reexamination proceeding should alert the PTO of the stayed proceeding and request that the stay be lifted. Any third party requester may alert the PTO of a stayed proceeding in a notice of ligitation under 37 CFR 1.565(a).

Assistant Secretary and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

Reference Collections of U.S. Patents Available for Public Use in Patent Depository Libraries

The following libraries, designated as Patent Depository Libraries (PDLs), receive current issues of U.S. Patents and maintain collections of earlier-issued patents. The scope of these collections varies from library to library, ranging from patents of only recent years to all or most of the patents issued since 1790.

These patent collections, which are organized in patent number sequence, are available for use by the public free of charge. Each of the PDLs, in addition, offers supplemental reference publications of the U.S. Patent Classification System, including the Manual of Classification, Index to the U.S. Patent Classification, Classification Definitions, and provides technical staff assistance in their use to aid the public, in gaining effective access to information contained in patents. CASSIS (Classification And Search Support Information System), which provides direct, on-line access to Patent and Trademark Office data, is available at all PDLs. Facilities for making paper copies of patents from either microfilm or paper collections are generally provided for a fee.

Since there are variations in the scope of patent collec patents from either microfilm or paper collections are generallcontemplating use of the patents at a particular library is advised to contact that library, in advance, about its collection and hours in order to avert possible inconvenience.

SECTION 2.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

SECTION 2.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).
